

Getting to know you:
(No, I don't need your name on this sheet.)

What have you heard about philosophy in the past?

Do you have opinions already on some of the things we'll discuss in this class?:

What makes you the same person as you ten years ago or thirty years in the future?

Could a machine think? What would have to be true about a machine for it to count as a thinking thing?

How do you decide what is good? By the consequences of an action? By the intentions of the agent?

What is justice? What make laws just or unjust? What is the role of the government?

What are the very basic things that exist in the universe? Are space and time continuous or discrete?

What does it mean to be rational?

We can't cover everything, but what other questions or topics would you be interested in discussing?
